

DIED FOR LOVE.

Cola E. Stone, the Well-Known Bicyclist, a Suicide.

Startling Details Brought Out at Coroner's Inquest This Morning.

Dr. Kershaw, the Attending Physician, Swears That Young Stone Told Him That He Had Taken Arsenic, and Wanted to Die—The Father's Story—The Young Lady in the Case—The Funeral.

The announcement of the death of Cola E. Stone, Saturday night, is followed by a surprise this afternoon in the discovery that the deceased bicyclist did not die of congestion of the stomach as stated, but that he took his own life. It had been a matter of wonder that such a large, powerful man as Stone should die so suddenly, after only a few hours of illness, and the question went round that there was something back of it. This theory proved true when this morning undertakers Smithers and Waggoners were refused a burial certificate by Dr. Martin Kershaw, the attending physician, who turned the whole matter over to the Coroner, fearing that Stone died from poisoning. Accordingly an inquest was ordered, which took place just before the funeral this afternoon at the residence of Cola E. Stone's parents near Tower Grove Station. Deputy Coroner Tom Hessey conducted the inquest.

DR. MARTIN KERSHAW

testified that Saturday evening he was called to attend Cola Stone. On entering the room Stone motioned to his grandmother and father to leave the room, then said: "Well, Doctor, I have taken arsenic." When asked why he simply shrugged his shoulders and said he wanted to "shuffle off." The Doctor at once proceeded with the usual antidotes. His pulse was then 108 and he was tossing around in great agony. He was asked by the Doctor if he wanted to take any medicine to counteract the poison and said: "Yes; I am disgusted with the arsenic route." This, the Doctor thinks, was not meant a desire to return to life, but simply as an expression of a wish to be relieved of the terrible pain that was searing his life. He was at this time in the greatest agony, vomiting every minute, when the Doctor called later, at 10 o'clock, and was in an unconscious condition, never rallied.

Dr. Kershaw believes that the arsenic was taken at breakfast on Saturday, and that he had been suffering from the effects ever since.

THE FATHER'S STORY

Prof. C. H. Stone, the father, was the next witness. He said that Cola did not give him the news of his arsenic taking, but told him his mother had been ill all day Saturday. Saturday morning while Cola's face was flushed with a slight fever, which is now believed to have been arsenic, he first noticed the man's face, and asked his father whether he could be spared from the business if he left town. When he was told no Cola broke down and burst into tears. On Saturday evening, till nearly midnight, having passed the hours of the evening with his friends. His father thinks that his rash step was caused by a temporary insanity induced by the fall of Springfield, and on the 25th instant the rest of the family were in complete ignorance of his manner of death, and were terribly shocked when the real facts were brought out by the coroner.

There was the only witness and when the their testimony had been taken the verdict of suicide with "cause unknown" was rendered, and on this the burial certificate was issued in time for the interment.

THE Real Cause.

A more plausible reason about 10 days to-day concerning his friendship with the tall, burly young lad, Miss Laura Browning, formerly employed at Weston's bakery, 1017 Olive street, who spent some time in New York City, and of Sampson, about which there was some controversy. She is a handsome young woman, with a general resemblance to Cola, and Captain Cole, who continued his address with ardor and persistency that would brook no coolness or lack of any display that was shown regarding his attachment. She was a lady of determined spirit who could not endure the pain, and setting his jaws to her death. He was as firm in his demand for his love-making as was in everything else he undertook, and commanding in the young lady's company, and was worried beyond all measure when anything went wrong. His last interview was not looked upon with favor. He appeared at the Tower Grove saloon Friday night about midnight, and an excited youth drew a revolver and between 6 o'clock in the evening and that time, he was "with friends in town," his father said. That was the last seen.

Mrs. LAURA BROWNING

was sent by the bereaved family yesterday and has been at the Stone residence ever since. She has been engaged in preparing to attend the funeral. Before the cortège started she was seen by a Post-District reporter, but denied any statement. The full nature of the testimony taken at the inquest had not yet been revealed to her, so that she was not prepared to say anything about the matter. She was very much affected, and mingled her tears with the family's as they all were over the dead boy. Her eyes were dressed in dark, and bore herself with composure.

The developments of the day are a complete reversal of the sensational charges printed in a morning paper that his death was caused by bicycle riding.

THE Funeral.

The funeral took place this afternoon from his father's residence, Dr. Truman Post preaching the sermon. The following were the pall-bearers: Ed. Steinhauer, Mr. Germany, Arthur Lindell, Gordon J. S. Morris, George Peters, L. J. Berger, J. S. Moore, Stephen Mewes, Woodless Price, James Cripps, Hender and other visiting wheelmen, with the family and Capt. Cole. The Clegg Bambers sent a beautiful floral emblem consisting of a broken column with a floral resting against it. Capt. Cole and visiting wheelmen met at the Lindell Hotel and passed appropriate resolutions of respect.

Cola E. Stone.

Stone was a native of this city and was 22 years and 6 months old. He was the oldest child of Prof. Charles H. Stone of the Smith Academy, Washington University. There are four other children—two boys and two girls. The whole family—father, mother, girls and boys—are strong advocates of bicycle and tricycle riding, and all of them ride machines. Cola was educated at the Washington University and commenced riding a bicycle five or six years ago. He was believed by many to be the best amateur in America, and, if he had lived, there is very little question that he would have won the amateur championship before another year had passed. At the recent Springfield mass meeting he was winning the ten-mile League of American Wheelmen race, and led the last quarter of the mile. George E. Hodson, the present champion, collided with him in trying to pass him and both were thrown violently to the ground. Stone breaking two bones in his left wrist. He rode a very large bicycle, and was using a lighter weight than the others. At the time of the accident he had ridden his bicycle half a mile to the St. Clair Turnpike Company's headquarters and rooms the new premises leased about twenty-eight in First street, Secretary of State, and made an argument in its favor that impressed all who heard it. There were some expressions of opinion in regard to the safety of the bicycle, but the administration had waited for him to get to Mexico it is a fair presumption that it will be some time before we shall be compelled to retract."

If we understand him rightly, SAM JONES, the evangelist in his St. Joe sermon says that the saddest sight that the eyes of the Lord have ever looked on is to see the hundreds of families in St. Joe that are "going straight to hell." Then the Lord has never even looked at Kansas City.

Mrs. Surratt was found guilty and executed on less damning evidence than the Chase letter would have furnished against MURAT HALSTEAD, if he had been tried as one of the instigators of President LINCOLN's assassination. In stirring up the embers of old strife, MURAT has burned himself dreadfully.

Mr. CLARDY is working nobly for the appointment of JASPER BURKS as Marshal. We do not know what success he meets with, but his candidate would be materially strengthened if he could get a certificate proving that he was not employed as a lobbyist for the Gould system at Jefferson City during the last session of the Legislature. There is a prevalent impression that this was Mr. BURKS' regular business, and the impression is doing him a great deal of damage.

The bloody shirt idea is not meeting with success in the Ohio campaign. Cincinnati depends very largely on Southern trade and the Southern merchants are so peculiar as to object to political abuse and slander. The Cincinnati business men are also peculiar and dislike to have their customers driven from their doors. All over this country, with an occasional exception here and there, the business men are beginning to insist on the rights of the business interest to exemption from political disturbance.

MURAT HALSTEAD of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette is not at all disconcerted by the publication of a brutal and stupid letter written by him during the war in which he calls for the removal of the "foolish, drunken, stupid GRANT," and asks Secretary CHASE to "KNOCK LINCOLN's head against the wall." Mr. HALSTEAD is now engaged in waving JOHN SHERRMAN's bloody shirt over the South, and this valuable service to the country stones for the failure of his attempt to remove GRANT and LINCOLN.

The thought that Vice-President HAMILIN would be a bigger fool than President LINCOLN was the only thing that prevented HALSTEAD from proclaiming that it would be doing God service to kill "Old Abe" in 1863. About the same time Mr. HALSTEAD wanted GRANT cashiered as a drunkard, and WENDELL PHILLIPS hung for treason. Very naturally Mr. HALSTEAD is now engaged in arraigning a majority of the States as mere nests of treason, and the dominant party as a conspiracy to destroy the Government.

The latest discoverer of a new and infallible cure for Asiatic cholera is Dr. CHAPMAN of England, who cures the disease by applying ice to the patient's spine. He accutes the microscope and lays all the blame on "thermal and electric influences" affecting the nerves. The remedy naturally deduced from this theory would be the frosty atmosphere of a refrigerator hospital. As both yellow fever and cholera refine to associate with Jack Frost, a quart, say, of Manitoba winter in a portable shape and warranted to keep in any climate ought to be a sure cure for either disease.

As a contribution to Ohio campaign literature the Democratic papers are republishing the war-time ravages of their opponents. We deplore this digging up of old hatchets. It is not in accord with the spirit of the times. Here in Missouri the Democratic statesmen are kindly recommending Mr. HYDE for the St. Louis Post Office, although it was only a little while ago that Mr. HYDE declared that the one thing this country needed was the annihilation of the Democratic party.

The loyalty of the lower classes in England is becoming a faded reminiscence. The hop-pickers on the estate of the Duke of Edinburgh, in the County of Kent, actually insisted on being paid the usual price of eighteen pence a basket instead of kissing the ground at his feet and receiving with loyal cheers the twelve pence he offered them; they made such a frightful row that he had to pay them full price. English hop-pickers tramp long distances to get a few days' employment, and sleep on the ground along the hedge-rows until it lasts. Many of them are children and many more are women with babies at the breast. When that class of people object to working for royalty at half-price, the post-laurate may well suspect, that their "love for freedom in her reign" is changing to "the school-boy beat, the blind hysterics of the Colt."

We published a few days ago an account of the organization of the United States Marshalship as directed against the strikers at Moberly, from which it appeared that the Deputy Marshal, who was in the pay of the United States, had secured a position for his son in the pay of the railroad company, who made the arrests, thus virtually placing the enforcement of the authority of the Government in the hands of a corporation. Such an abuse of official power needs only to be exposed in order to be condemned. But it would be only a trifle compared with the appointment to the Marshallship of the Eastern District of JASPER M. BURKS, who has the reputation of a railroad lobbyist, and whose connection with politics seems to have consisted in establishing a connection between the politicians in the Legislature and the "fixers" outside. In the existing state of relations between railroad corporations in receivers' hands and railroad employees, the official who is called to arbitrate in which he represents the Democratic party. We do not disgrace the fact that we were considerably surprised at the very sudden and unexpected arrival of the "bloody shirt" issue by the Republican party. There is something singular in this reversal. It similes more rapidly in this direction as a consequence of the adoption of a stop-over bill which affects the Democratic party. We are free to say we do not clearly perceive what the leaders of the party are aiming at. We are unable to declare that we believe they are actuated by a sincere desire to see fair play done the Race. The history of the past, wherein the party played fast and loose with the race question at the South, staves in the face, and makes us scrupulous the matter with our eyes wide open, and the pages of history unfolded before us for guidance.

Mrs. POT.

We thought it was only "Eve" and "Zuleika" that sought admission, and as they were pretty decent sort of female in their time, it struck us as a reasonable request on the part of their husbands admirers when application was made to admit them to the upper circles in the Future Great. But we find now that they were accompanied by Poliphilus' wife, that unsavory bessie from the land of the Pharaohs. The same who attempted to inveigle the innocent and virtuous Joseph into sowing wild oats in the valley of the Nile. "Eve" and "Zuleika" are all right as long as they keep themselves in decent company, but Mrs. Poliphilus is n. g. in this latitude.

The Orphan beehives From the Dexter Enterprise Message.

The Missouri Republican remarked in a recent issue that Governor Marmaduke "always remembers his friends and seldom forgets his enemies" and went on to cite instances of where he had rewarded those that were specially friendly to him in the last campaign. But we failed to see mention of anything he had done for Southwestern Missouri, or the part of the State that elected him and made him Governor."

Hands off, Senator. From the Mexico Intelligencer.

With all due respect for the sterling honesty of Senator Cookrell we must unhesitatingly condemn his action in disposing of the Government parsonage. The constitution contemplates that Senators will keep hands off in this matter in order that they may be unbiased in passing upon the merits of the President's appointments. The practice of Senatorial log-rolling is a relic of Republicanism and must go.

DA. WARD, who was President Cleveland's companion in the Adirondacks, writes to the Forest and Stream that the rumor concerning the latter of having used dogs in hunting deer contrary to the law is wholly without foundation.

JOHN A. LOOCH has been a Senator but a few years, and is not a rich man, but he was able to pay $20,000 for his new Washington home, owns a good house in Chicago, besides an Illinois farm, and will soon have a copyright of his "Adrian History."

Mr. W. C. E. Williams complains that people mislead him only as the author of "Gospel Wine," "a redoubtably" he says, "which, while it is one of my greatest privileges, is yet so destructive of my own identity that it has become cosmically irritating."

It is announced from Washington that Gen. Miles has filed a protest against the promotion of Captain H. J. Farnsworth of the Ninth Cavalry to be Assistant Inspector General, with rank of Governor Marmaduke and ex-Governor Crittenden were spoken of. Some one remarked that it was not true that these gentlemen did not speak, as the story was contradicted by the papers. Senator Vest replied that "that is the best reason in the world why it is true, if the papers say it isn't," and then declared that they were so at odds that they did not recognize each other. If Senator Vest made this gratuitous slur at the newspapers, it was certainly uncalled for. We do not recall that the papers of this state have ever treated him unfairly or misrepresented him. The gentleman is himself fully posted as to the relations between Governor M. and ex-Governor C., for they were not cut out of the same cloth. They do not recognize each other.

Captain Farnsworth showed cowardice during the Cheyenne Indian War in Texas in 1874 in the face of the enemy. Captain ORLUSO B. HALL and his wife of Bridgeport, Conn., celebrated their golden wedding by driving in a phaeton over the same road they took for their bridal tour fifty years ago, but some of the still surviving grandfathers witnessing the procession thought they didn't drive so fast as formerly.

Gen. President appointed Arthur Bainbridge Hoff of the Peoria Cavalry to be a cadet at large at the Annapolis Naval Academy. He is a son of Commander William Bainbridge Hoff of the navy, and grandson of Rear Admiral Henry C. Hoff and great-grandson of Commodore William Bainbridge, who commanded the old frigate Constitution when she captured the Java.

George WILKIN, a notable man in his day, died in New York on Wednesday in his 68th year. He was a New Yorker by birth, and made an early name in connection with steam navigation. In 1849 he went to California, where he became associated with Milderick, who left him all his property. With this he returned to New York and established Wilkes' Spirit of the Times, a weekly sporting paper, which achieved a great success. He was essentially a Bohemian and a collector erratic, but wrote the President to his farm to see his hand-sown Holstein cows and drink their dreamy milk. And it may be that singularly will win the game. The President is a great admirer of the cattle.

THE CHICAGO AND ALTON.

It Meets the Charge of Favoring Chicago by Boston Railroads.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

St. Louis, September 28, 1885.

In your issue of the 24th instant appears a lengthy article which does the Chicago and Alton Railroad great injustice, and was written apparently without a full knowledge of the facts. The gist of the article seems to be that the policy of the Chicago and Alton Railroad is to discriminate against St. Louis. This is entirely without truth or foundation in fact. If you had investigated you would have learned that when the arrangement was made to run the special trains from Alton to Chicago, at the special low rates referred to in your article, it was arranged at the same time to run from Alton to St. Louis, one from a point near Kansas City, and one from the Jacksonville and Peoria, the same two railroads that make up the Fair Play Association. These "Fair Play" rates, etc., are made the subject of power to advertise the trains, which is a strong argument in favor of the Chicago and Alton Railroad.
